

Stephan Christgau, PhD

Former Senior Partner in Novo Holdings
Novo Seeds

Stephan Christgau has been in Novo Holdings from 2007 until 2019, where he played a leading role in the launch and growth of Novo Seeds.

Prior to joining Novo Seeds, Stephan was Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer at Osteologix where he played a leading role in the development of the company, taking the lead candidate drug through all stages from lead identification to Phase II testing for osteoporosis treatment.

Previously Stephan has worked in the metabolic bone disease and arthritis areas in Nordic Bioscience and Osteometer Biotech and as a protein chemist in Novo Nordisk.

Stephan has now left Novo Seeds to launch a new Nordic based life science venture fund.

Stephan also serves as chairman for VentureCup, a non-profit university entrepreneurship organization.

